The annual rafting trip is organized and run by volunteers to assist the Program Office and to keep the cost at a minimum. All money collected is paid to the various vendors that are used to supply housing, food, buses, and rafting. No money is left over, and no compensation is given to the volunteers to arrange the trip. Our vendors require 30 days advance notice to make their commitments for supplying our services. This advance notice and payment is the reason we have had a no refund policy each year.

The trip is an optional add-on to the weekend at Camp Rockmont. Registration for Camp Rockmont is a requirement for rafting. The French Broad River is a class 2/3 river. We have safely and successfully rafted 4th grade and up Trail Mates/Blazers for over twenty-five years. The trip is held every year on Friday so that Camp Rockmont can be enjoyed in its entirety. Participants must be at camp Thursday night, which may require young blazers and mates to miss school on Friday. We, along with our previous 19,000+ participants, believe the experience with Dad enriches our youth and more than makes up for the missed day of school. We understand that many of you cannot miss school and hope to see you at Camp Rockmont on Saturday and Sunday.
